

GAS METER SAFETY

Springtime is here, and it's the perfect time to start those outdoor projects you've been planning all winter. Whether you're building fences, decks, or patios near an existing gas meter, it's crucial to remember never to enclose or build over a gas meter or gas service line. Doing so can create a hazardous situation and lead to unexpected expenses if the meter or service line needs to be moved after your project is completed.

To avoid this, contact Wyoming Gas Company before starting your project. We can assess whether your gas meter or service line needs to be relocated to accommodate your plans. The cost of relocating the gas meter before starting your project is minimal compared to the expense of moving it afterward.

Additionally, providing safe and clear access to your gas meter ensures reliable and efficient service when Wyoming Gas personnel need to perform tasks such as meter reading, periodic safety checks, routine maintenance, and emergency functions. Keep pets confined indoors or away from the gas meter. Just as it's important to keep your gas meter clear of ice and snow in the winter, it's equally important to keep it free of clutter and vegetation in the summer.

Gas meters and service pipes should never be used to store tools, extension cords, or tether animals. Instruct children not to climb or play on the meter, as extra weight or force can damage it and the piping. If your meter is damaged or if you smell natural gas near the meter, call us immediately. Please do not attempt to service or maintain the meter yourself.

Wyoming Gas Company is committed to providing excellent service to its customers. Our dedication to safety, reliability, and customer satisfaction is at the core of everything we do. We strive to ensure that our services meet the highest standards and that our customers receive the best possible experience.

Remember, planning ahead can save you time and money. By considering the placement of your gas meter and service lines early in your project planning, you can avoid potential hazards and costly adjustments later. Our team is here to help you navigate these considerations and ensure your outdoor projects are both safe and successful. Whether it's a new fence, deck, or patio, taking these precautions will help you enjoy your new space without worry. Thank you for choosing Wyoming Gas Company, and we look forward to assisting you with your project needs.

RECIPE

Red, White and Blue Fruit Tart

Ingredients

For the crust :

1 pie crust from a box

For the filling:

1-8 ounce package cream cheese, softened

1/2 cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla bean paste

For the fruit topping:

4 large strawberries, sliced

1 1/2 cups blackberries

1/4 cup blueberries

1/2 cup raspberries

Instructions

1. Heat the oven to 450°F.
2. Carefully unroll the dough and place in the tart pan. Use your fingers to press the dough firmly into the pan, making sure to press along the sides as well before pricking with a fork (to prevent air bubbles).
3. Bake the tart crust for 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Allow the crust to cool completely before adding the cream cheese filling.
4. Add the cream cheese, sugar, and vanilla bean paste to a medium bowl and use a mixer to beat at medium speed until smooth. Evenly spread the filling to cover the entire crust.
5. Arrange fruit as shown (or in any pattern you like) on top of the cream cheese filling.
